Project Title: Laika Studios Website

I'd like to build this site as multiple pages, and for there to be a bar at the top with different places the user can explore. I think I want it to be built like history and then a little blurb about the production of each film they have made so far with images of that film on the sides.

Home Page: Introduction to Laika Studios and what it does, where it is located, who owns it, it's history

Coraline: some pictures of the movie and some information about production of the film

Paranorman: some pictures of the movie and some information about production of the film

BoxTrolls: some pictures of the movie and some information about production of the film

Kubo and the Two Strings: some pictures of the movie and some information about production of the film

Missing Link: some pictures of the movie and some information about production of the film

Sources: sources cited
